Leading The Champions Among You: Leadership Lessons from a Record-Breaking High School Coach Keith Rejino

How did one man pull out of me strength and talent I didn't think I had? How did a humble coach inspire a public high school track team to win year after year and hold the USA track and field record for the longest winning streak? How is it possible that ordinary teenage boys can achieve superior excellence?

This book is about reverse engineering the greatest sports moment in my life, bar none, into leadership techniques you can use in your daily life to inspire your team, children, and yourself to strive for excellence. Implement these leadership lessons and you will impact the destiny of those you lead.

In the first part of this book, I will share the most inspirational sports story of my life. In the second part, I will break down what leadership lessons my record-breaking coach implemented to inspire my team and myself.

Grab a cup of coffee and put your foot on the starting line. What you think your team is capable of...is only the beginning.

Leading The Champions Among You is now an instructional leadership book in the public school system.
