Muslim Students Association of the United States and Canada: A Glimpse of the Sixties A. Nudrat Unus

This booklet is designed to partially document the early stages of the Muslim Students Association of the United States and Canada (then popularly known as MSA). It is not intended to be a book on the MSA's history but rather to highlight some salient features of an extraordinary organization founded in 1963, which established a sure footing within a few years during the sixties. The individual documents in this booklet were part of a poster that was displayed in the History Gallery at the 51st Annual Convention of the Islamic Society of North America (ISNA) in Detroit in 2014.
