2016 RONE Award Finalist (winner TBD October 2016)

Eighteen years ago, Philip Grant--overcome with regret for what he couldn't foresee and memories of what he couldn't prevent--abandoned all to live the solitary life of a fur trapper. Years spent roaming ridgelines and riverbanks in Montana Territory left his body weary and his confidence weak, so he decides to turn in his last bundle of furs and await the inevitable in a cabin. Alone.

Then a body-shaped lump wrapped in a quilt changes everything.

Philip discovers a battered woman and her infant son, on the run from a ruthless abuser with a penchant for whiskey. Seventy miles of snow-covered mountain peaks and windswept flatlands stand between them and safety--the woman's aunt's house. Can Philip trust in his newfound faith to lead the way?
